Army, Navy Agreed To Unify Commands In Overseas Areas

Fail to See Eye to Eye on Merger Within the U. S., However

Washington, Dec. 17—(AP)—The army and navy agreed today on unified command for armed forces but left unsettled the wrangle over merger at home.

The joint chiefs of staff, with the bitter experience of Pearl Harbor's dual command in mind, climaxed a long series of negotiations by denouncing a plan under which overseas forces will be under the operational command of a single man—army, navy or air as the situation dictates. The plan was approved by President Truman.

The establishment of seven overseas commands among other things whittled away some of the domain of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and the navy say areas of the Pacific he had controlled. It also reestablished some pre-war commands and created a new northeast command, its details as yet undisclosed.

Another Recommendation

Concurrently with the announcement of the single command plan for overseas organizations came a congressional committee recommendation in another field of combined operation.

The house military committee proposed that permanent legal status be given to the national intelligence authority established by President Truman last January. That agency was created to weave together the intelligence operations of various government agencies including the army's G-2 section, the navy's office of naval intelligence and units of the state department which include vestiges of the wartime office of strategic services.

Members of the authority, the committee said, should be the secretaries of the state, war and navy departments or deputies chosen by them for intelligence activities. The three secretaries, along with a member appointed by the president, were named in the authority as created a year ago.

Should Have Complete Control

As a permanent set-up, the committee said the agency should get its money directly from congress and should have complete control of its personnel rather than receive its employees from the three departments.

The joint army-navy announcement last night said each commander will be responsible for unified planning for defense and, in case of emergency, for the conduct of operations. It was not clear

Goodfellows Start Packing Gifts for Tuesday Delivery

The Goodfellow club is functioning in high gear these days, buying and collecting presents for the annual Christmas campaign to provide cheer for the unfortunate youngsters in this vicinity. The boxes for the many scores of kids will be packed in the basement of the Elks Club the last few days of this week and early next week and the boxes will be delivered on Tuesday, the day before Christmas.

Names of families who will need help to get Santa Claus to visit their house are still coming in and so are the donations from the host of Goodfellows who read the Evening Telegraph. A number of new contributions came in to The Goodfellow Club yesterday and this morning the total was $663.50.

Tenth Courteous Driver Listed

Mrs. Harold Shearer, 821 Forrest avenue, Dixon, received the daily five dollar courteous driver award from Patrolman Robert Tuttle. Mrs. Shearer held her car at a stop at First street and Galena avenue while the traffic light was in her favor to allow Christmas-shopping pedestrians to pass. The award was made by The Dixon Evening Telegraph and is in cooperation with the Chicago Motor club.

Palmer Tells Lions DHS Has Driver's Course Ready Now

New Course Will Open in Second Semester; Hits Criticism

J. R. Palmer, member of the Dixon high school board and traffic engineer at the state Division of Highways office here, told a luncheon meeting of the Lions club at noon today that the local high school does have a driver's training course which will be placed in operation at the start of the second semester.

In answer to reports that the school had turned down instruction and training courses offered by the Chicago Motor club, Palmer declared: "It is the intent of the board to avoid any and all commercially-sponsored programs, and all projects must have direct faculty supervision."

Discourage Intervention

"If it is worthwhile," he added, "it should be conducted under tax-supported auspices. It is the intention of the board to discourage intervention."

The high school had a student driver training course in operation from 1937 or 1938 until war broke out in 1941, Palmer told the luncheon group, but found that the original approach lacked something "in getting the material over." In the past, he said, the courses were conducted in science classes for the freshmen students, and the text material was augmented by talks to assembly groups by prominent local citizens on various subjects connected with driving and traffic problems in general.

In the new course to be adopted next semester, Palmer revealed that the classes will use a text entitled "Man and the Motor Car," and that parents will receive a supplementary text, furnished by the state, entitled "Behind the Wheel." The parents face a moral obligation, he told the group, to get the instruction material outlined in the booklet across to their children.

Answers Criticism

The new course will be carried throughout the year, and is designed for expansion, with the hope, Palmer said, of furnishing behind-the-wheel instruction to students later. Originally such instruction was offered with a dual-control car provided by a local automobile dealer.

Palmer's speech was in answer to a statement by Wayne Keeley, manager of the local office of the Chicago Motor club, declaring that the local schools were the only one in the county not participating in the driver's training course program.

Results of a survey of traffic conditions on North Peoria avenue at the high school, revealed Saturday in the Telegraph along with Keeley's statement, reported numerous traffic violations by student drivers.

Questions Local Story

Referring to the news story, Palmer said that the "school recognizes the fact it always has had 100 per cent cooperation from The Telegraph, and it is felt that publication of the article in Saturday's edition does not represent the opinion of the paper. But it does raise the following questions: "1. Should it have been published without contacting school authorities? 2. Should a copy be forwarded to the main office of the Motor club inquiring if the statements by the branch manager are approved by them? 3. Should a copy be sent to the state police requesting information on policies of enforcement? 4. Were the local police notified of traffic violations prior to the publication of the article?"

Two years ago Green and Democratic Mayor Edward J. Kelly's Chicago legislators joined forces in a spirited but unsuccessful attempt to divide the 26 congressional seats equally between Cook county and downstate. The 1945 bill was beaten in the house by a 69 to 60 vote, with 77 needed for passage. Of the 69 voting against it, 68 were downstaters. The 60 favoring it included 49 from Cook county and 11 from downstate.

Youth Kills Mother's Fiance to Save Her

Chicago, Dec. 17—(AP)—A 15-year-old boy, Melbourne Healey, Jr., who went to visit his mother to exchange Christmas presents last night was held without charge today after, Police Lt. Thomas Lyons said, he fatally stabbed his mother's 50-year-old fiance to protect her from being choked.

Lyons said the youth related orally that he plunged a 10-inch butcher knife into the back of Charles Sencenich, an optometrist, when he seized his mother, Mrs. Mary Williamson, 47.

Police detectives said that Mrs. Williamson told them she had been married three times, was divorced twice and has four children, two each by her first and second husbands. Her first husband, a police detective, was slain by gangsters in 1929.

Lyons said the 15-year-old youth did not live with his mother. He said she had planned to marry Sencenich next month. She was ordered held for an inquest.

Adams in Chicago for Exam Today

Dean Adams, 19, held for questioning in the assault on Miss Phyllis Ogren, 28-year-old nurse's aid at KSB hospital, since the night of the attack, Dec. 2, was taken to Chicago today by State's Attorney Morey C. Pires and Sheriff Gilbert Finch for examination by an alienist.

Adams was scheduled to undergo examination at Neuro Psychiatric institute sometime today.

The youth, bound over to the grand jury Dec. 7, was identified by Miss Ogren shortly after the attack as the man who struck her from behind with an iron bar at 9 p. m. Dec. 2 in front of 518 East Second street as she walked home from the hospital. Adams has denied that he is guilty of the attack.

Meanwhile, Miss Ogren, who returned to the home of her parents at 607 East Second street from the hospital Saturday, is reported still on the road to recovery.

The eye injured in the assault, which doctors at first feared might be lost, is thought to be progressing satisfactorily. She is still under the care of doctors for the injured eye, head cut and broken facial bones she received in the attack.

Tokyo, Dec. 17—(AP)—Left wing organizers staged their largest demonstration in occupied Japan today—a daylong procession estimated by the provost marshal at 350,000 to 400,000 shabbily dressed men, women and boys.

It obviously was intended more to impress General MacArthur with their influence than to accomplish its ostensible purpose, to force Premier Yoshida to resign. As anticipated, the government majority in the House of Representatives defeated, 236 to 160, an accompanying resolution to dissolve the Diet.

MacArthur himself drove through the crowds of demonstrators at the height of the parade. The marchers readily made room for his well known black sedan.

Friends Paid Back $3,000 Bilbo Loan, His Attorney Says

"Informal" Committees in Campaign Made State Law No Good

Washington, Dec. 17—(AP)—Forrest Jackson, attorney for Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.), testified today that friends of the lawmaker attended an emergency meeting in 1940 to raise funds to pay back $3,000 borrowed by Bilbo.

Jackson told a senate war investigating subcommittee that Bilbo had borrowed the money from Abe Shushan, New Orleans wholesale dry goods merchant, and that Shushan had been threatening to disclose information about the loan.

Jackson testified that Edward P. Terry, former Bilbo secretary, called a meeting in Jackson, Miss., in August, 1940, to discuss a matter of grave importance.

Stewart Requested Loan

The session was attended, Jackson said, by himself, Terry, the late Grant Stewart of New Hebron, Miss., and Robert M. Newton, Wiggins, Miss., naval stores merchant.

Previous witnesses have testified that Shushan loaned Bilbo $3,000 at the request of Stewart.

Earlier, Jackson expressed the opinion that "hundreds of thousands of dollars" can be spent in Mississippi political campaigns despite a state Corrupt Practices act.

The attorney was questioned about the state law by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) at the Bilbo war contracts inquiry.

After asking about the alleged payment of $11,000 to former Rep. Ross Collins' campaign manager after Collins lost his bid for a senatorial nomination in 1942, Ferguson queried: ?

"How did you get around the Mississippi corrupt practices act? You did not report this as a campaign expenditure."

State Law No Good

Jackson replied that only the main committee of a candidate was required to report its expenditures. "Informal" groups were exempt, he said.

"What good is the state law then?" asked Ferguson.

"I don't think it's any good," Jackson replied. "It's like the Hatch act (federal law which limits political expenditures and contributions)."

Ferguson suggested that "thousands of informal committees could be set up and spend hundreds of thousands of dollars" under Jackson's idea of the state law.

"That's right," the lawyer replied.

Before today's session started Senator Bilbo told reporters he did not plan to answer testimony until it was completed, including that of his former secretary, Edward B. Terry.

When he does testify, Bilbo will have a chance to tell his side of the story of his relations with a dozen war contractors who:

1. Loaned him money;
2. Bought him a car;
3. Dug him a lake and;
4. Chipped in more than $30,000 for his futile campaign to elect

Grand Jury Pushes Probe of Football Championship 'Fix'

New York, Dec. 17—(AP)—A decision on fixing of bail for Alvin J. Paris, charged with attempted bribery of two New York Giants football players, was withheld today after Assistant District Attorney General P. Monaghan reported a telephone threat against Paris' life.

Monaghan told General Session Judge Francis J. Valente that "a member of the police department received a telephone call this morning saying that an attempt might very well be made on the life of this defendant."

In asking that Paris be held without bail pending trial, Monaghan declared that "the people he (Paris) associated with and his backers, I feel, will do everything in their power to prevent him from appearing for trial, even going to the gravest of extremes."

Story of Alleged 'Fix'

Monaghan said the alleged "fix," which resulted yesterday in a grand jury indictment of Paris, 28-year-old novelty concern officer, was launched by a "very large bookmaking outfit outside the state of New York."

Paris was indicted on charges of attempting to bribe Merle Hapes and Frank Filchok, backfield stars of the Giants. He was specifically indicted on two counts charging violation of a penal code section outlawing bribes, attempted bribes or other measures to "influence the outcome of a professional sports contest."

Hapes was declared ineligible just before the game by league president Bert Bell but Filchok, passing ace of the Giants, was permitted to play and threw the passes resulting in the Giants' only scores against the Bears, who won 24-14.

Bell Explains

Bell offered this explanation of why Filchok was permitted to play:

During a conference Saturday with league officials, owners of the New York Giants and the players involved at Gracie Mansion, home of Mayor William O'Dwyer, the mayor "took Filchok to another room and questioned him."

"He returned after a while and announced to us and to the detectives: 'This boy has a clean bill of health and is completely all right. I think he should play tomorrow.'"

"I don't know anything more than that. The mayor said he

Appraisal

Boston, Dec. 17—(AP)—Hollywood film society is a "synthetic, childless population of comparatively simple people without too much intellect," according to Carl C. Zimmerman, Harvard College professor of sociology.

Prof. Zimmerman told the Boston Congregational Club last night that "one of the first things that has to be done to control the family system is to clean out that group of disintegrated people in Hollywood."

He said that anti-familism destroyed the Greek and Roman civilization and that "the upheaval of the family is beginning today and will probably spread more in the future."

Greater Section of North America Held in Cold Wave's Grip

Forecasters' Promise is for Colder Weather on Wednesday

(By The Associated Press)

A cold wave moved into a large section of the country today and as temperatures skidded to below zero in many areas federal forecasters promised colder weather tomorrow.

The chilly blasts which penetrated over the northern plains states yesterday moved across the great lakes region into the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys and headed for the eastern seaboard and the New England states. Forecasters said temperatures in the cold belt area would remain sub-normal most of the week.

New falls of snow ranging as high as nine inches and winds reaching a velocity of 45 miles an hour accompanied the sub-zero temperatures in the northern sections of Minnesota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan last night.

Near-blizzard conditions prevailed for brief periods in the three-state area, federal forecasters in Chicago said, as 45-mile-an-hour winds whipped the newly-fallen snow into huge drifts in many sections. The heaviest falls of snow were nine inches at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and six inches at Duluth, Minn., with temperatures of five below. There was a crescent-shaped band of snow averaging three to six inches across northern Michigan and the northern sections of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Zero Temperatures Forecast

As the new mass of cold air moved eastward temperatures dropped an average of from 20 to 30 degrees and by tomorrow morning zero readings or lower were forecast to penetrate as far south as northern Iowa and extreme northern Illinois. In the northern parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and lower Michigan the forecast was for temperatures of from 10 to 15 below. "The storm accompanying the cold wave was moving up towards the Hudson Bay region, the weather bureau said.

The nation's coldest official temperature early this morning was 18 degrees below zero at International Falls, Wisconsin had three below at Land O' Lakes, Iowa's minimum was four above at Spencer. Rockford was the coldest spot in Illinois with 11 above.

Temperatures ranged from 15 to 20 above in Michigan and from 20 to 30 in Indiana, with colder weather moving into those states today.

The cold weather was not forecast for the southwestern section of the country or the Pacific coast region. Temperatures of near 80 above were reported in parts of Texas yesterday.

In Dawson, Yukon territory, the starting point of the current cold blasts, temperatures were reported moderating, climbing to 40 degrees below zero yesterday as compared to last week's official -61 and an unofficial -70.

Digest of the News for Poultry Raisers

A Weekly Letter
by Frank Pribe

When prices on cars, for instance, are quoted f.o.b. the factory, you know how much the freight amounts to.

Because you don't pay for it directly, you probably don't think much about the freight on eggs. But it's not a small item. Today it costs $360 to ship a carload of eggs from the middle of Iowa, for example, to New York. That's 60c a case; 2c a dozen. After Jan. 1 it will cost $414, because the railroads have been allowed a 15% increase in rates.

Naturally, the railroads are happy about it. Now they say they can pay their employees higher wages and maybe make a little profit for their stockholders. But who will pay the extra freight?

In the long run, of course, everyone will pay for it.

But immediately you're the one who pays if you're buying a car, because the additional freight is added to the cost.

And you'll also pay the additional freight on the products you're selling.

That's the difference between a manufactured product and an agricultural product, particularly one as perishable as eggs. In the first case, the manufacturer sets the price and the consumer can buy or not, as he chooses. In the latter case, the consumer sets the price and the producer has no choice: Food is perishable and he has to sell.

Farmer Will Pay Higher Cost
So, in actual practice, the price you receive for a perishable product is the price the consumer will pay, minus the cost of collecting the product from various producers, processing and packing it, shipping, distributing and selling it.

It takes a lot of people to do all of those things. And all of those people have to be paid.

Someone will tell you the increase in freight rates is only a fraction of a cent a dozen; so it can easily be absorbed by the processor.

But a person who makes a statement like that either doesn't know the facts or doesn't recognize them.

Anyone who handles a perishable product—fruit or vegetables or meat or eggs—does well to make a fraction of a cent per pound or dozen. Which means, that the processor's average profit usually is very little more than the increase in freight rates!

With margins that narrow, he is in no position to absorb the additional freight cost.

Regardless of how anyone tries to explain it, the fact is, that with the increase in freight rates, the producer will receive just that much less for his products.

The only foreign trip George Washington ever took was to the island of Barbados in the West Indies.

Two Ashton Farmers, New Corn Champions

Two Ashton farmers won corn growing championships of Lee and Ogle counties, according to an announcement from the headquarters of the 1946 DeKalb Hybrid Corn Growing contest.

Donald Swegle of Ashton topped the Lee county title with a yield of 133.78 bushels per acre from a five-acre plot. Fred Karr, who resides north of Ashton, was named Ogle county champ for producing a yield of 125.29 bushels per acre in a five acre plot.

These record yields won for Swegle and Karr the coveted County Corn King plaques and

On-the-Level Contour Study

Soil Conservationist Ray Lane studies an example of on-the-level contour corn planting on the C. E. Lenox farm, Palmyra township. This project is estimated to be 60 per cent effective in control of soil lost on this field. Next year this field will be put into alternate contour strip-cropping.

Lee Farms Hit—Production High in Past 5 Years

Lee county farmers raised more products in the past five years than in any comparable period in the history of the county, figures just released from the 1945 U. S. Census of Agriculture indicate. The last farm census was in 1940.

On typical county farms livestock numbers increased 25 to 50 per cent. Total cattle and calves in the county went up from 45,000 before the war to 56,000 in the new census, and hog numbers advanced from 36,000 to 56,000. Whole milk sales increased from 7,639,000 gallons annually before the war to 9,171,000 gallons in the recent census year.

Here and elsewhere in the state, corn and soybean production was much larger during the war years. The county's corn crop was 9,070,000 bushels in the recent census year, compared to 7,712,000 bushels in the census of 1940; and also entitled them to participate for state and national corn growing contest awards.

Lee county had the distinction of having 17 entries with yields well above 100 bushels per acre. Other high figures were reported by Wesley Herwig, Franklin Grove, who had 127.16 bushels per acre; George C. Miller, Jr. of Compton with 125.56 and Herbert Sondgeroth of West Brooklyn, 124.27.

Lee Farms Hit—Production High in Past 5 Years

More than doubling their gross farm income, farmers in this county sold $15,723,000 worth of crop and livestock products in the recent census year, compared to $6,951,000 before the war. The state's gross farm income more than doubled, from about $400,000,000 in the pre-war year, to nearly $1,000,000,000 in the new census.

Of the county's total sales of farm products in the recent census, $8,552,000 was from livestock and livestock products, $7,168,000 from the sale of crops, and a small remaining amount from forest products.

In household equipment and farm machinery, this county also has higher figures. Farms with electricity increased from 1,346 before the war to 1,777 now and the number of farms with running water in dwellings, and with radios, telephones, trucks and tractors also showed increases.

Contouring Brings Big Steinhagen Corn Yield

L. F. Steinhagen, on the Charles Switts farm in Palmyra township, is confident that contouring increased his yields on corn and saved considerable soil this year following the receipt of a report from the DeKalb Hybrid Seed Corn company showing that his contour corn yields averaged 114.66 bushels per acre.

Steinhagen is so confident that the contouring was helpful that he wants more level lines marked out early next spring.

D. B. Kenney, who lives on the Dr. F. W. Broderick farm a mile south of Steinhagen, reported that conservation farming has increased his yields approximately 10 per cent during the past four years. He is confident that the increase due to these practices will be considerably greater in the future.

In an early afternoon ceremony at St. Paul's Lutheran parsonage, Miss Rose May Moorehead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moorehead of Sterling, and Robert James Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reid, route 1, Dixon, were united in marriage Sunday. The Rev. George Curran, pastor of the church, read the single ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a blue wool street-length dress with white accessories. Her corsage was made up of pink and white carnations. She wore a strand of pearls and matching earrings, gifts of the bridegroom.

For the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Moorehead chose a blue dress with white accessories. Mrs. Reid wore a black dress and matching accessories. Both had corsages of sweet peas and carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception for the immediate families was held at the home of the bride's parents in Sterling. The four-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, was cut by the bridal couple.

By BOB FALLSTROM

One of the frequent paradoxes in sports cropped up here Saturday night.

As you remember, Freeport came to town and whipped the high riding Dukes by a comfortable 55-41 margin. The Pretzels were never in trouble as their precision plays clicked beautifully.

Yet one night previously Freeport was rudely tumbled by West Rockford, admittedly weak this winter, 35-34. How come?

Well, there are many angles floating about concerning Freeport. Some claim the team is plagued by dissension. Others say the Orange and Black haven't struck a true stride.

Still others brag the outfit up as one of the school's best in history. And certain parties run 'em down as mediocre.

The Pretzels have been erratic thus far, that much is known. With a veteran lineup intact from last winter much was expected. Frank Levin, Freeport Journal-Standard sports writer, crawled out on a dangerous limb and picked the quint for Big Eight honors before the season began.

Frank shook his head sadly over the prediction Saturday evening. "It looks like I was wrong," he admitted. "We don't blame the guy. On paper the crew looked tops."

Then the opener cropped up. Freeport originally was scheduled to open at Dixon Nov. 29. The contest was figured to put 'em in shape for a test with East Moline the following night.

But the coal strike intervened, Dixon postponed the tilt and the Pretzels took a horrible 51-22 lacing from East Moline.

They bounced back one week later to thrash Sterling, 50-26. Against Moline, the outfit looked even better, corraling a 44-36 win.

Here the picture abruptly changed as the Pretz five took it on the chin from West Rockford.

Again they rebounded to whip Dixon. Orange observers rated Saturday's performance tops for the season. In our book, Freeport looked mighty sweet. Percy Franklin was especially outstanding.

That sets us right back where we began. It's just unexplainable. Particularly, when you stop to consider the bunch is mentored by one of the best in the business, Merritt Allen.

Allen has a wonderful reputation in this section for producing winners. Almost any coach will tell you what a nifty tutor he is. Perhaps the Allen touch will tell in the end. Let's just repeat an old axiom: Never take anything for granted in basketball!

HONOR RATING—Dixon's Dukes were ranked No. 14 among Illinois high school basketball outfits yesterday in a United Press story inaugurating weekly ratings.

The ranking is almost unprecedented. Never before has Dixon been able to crash the elite circle of rated powerhouses. However, it is presumed the table was compiled previous to Freeport's 55-41 triumph Saturday evening.

Champaign occupied first place in the ratings. Following were Rock Island's Redbirds, Waukegan's Muskies, Vernon, East Rockford, LaGrange, Morton of Cicero, Paris, Galesburg, Robinson, Clinton, Elgin, Jacksonville, Routh, Dixon and Keokuk.

The Associated Press' weekly ratings, compiled by state sports editors and writers, including your columnist, begin next week.

They elected to turn over to the village and rural service, until such time as a fire district is formed. Five members were nominated with the power to go ahead and form a fire district for this vicinity. It might be added that it will be necessary to call on those who have not contributed for the purpose of raising more money to cover the cost of operation.

People's Column

Dec 16 1946

May an anxious and worried Mother and Dad have the privilege of your column? Everyone knows what happened in our city two weeks ago. Monday, Dec. 2 1946 marks a day in our lives that can never be erased. We feel and know positively that all of this could have been avoided had there been better lighting near this spot, and the ravine on East Second street.

Twice within a period of 12 months tragedy has struck within this vicinity one fatal and results of second one still undetermined at this writing. And not too long ago several things of value that had been stolen were dumped in this ravine and had it not been that several small boys were playing there and ran across same most likely they would not have been found. When asking for better lighting recently we were told that it "couldn't be done" for all this costs money. Has it come to the point where money exceeds human lives? Many women, girls and children pass in this block at a much later hour than the one when this last tragedy struck and can not help but shudder as they pass.

We are not asking much, just a little more protection and a feeling of security for our loved ones. So, Mr. Mayor and anyone else who could help in this matter, come forward and do something before we have a repetition of what has happened in the past. We know we are voicing that which is in the hearts of our entire neighborhood as we write this column. Yours very sincerely,

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Ogren

A MAN FELT LIKE HIS BONES WERE BROKEN. DUE TO RHEUMATISM

One man recently stated that for years he felt like the bones in his legs were broken. This was due to muscular rheumatism. His muscles were swollen and his legs so stiff and sore that he couldn't walk without limping. He was in misery. Recently he started taking Rhu-Aid and says the feeling like his bones were broken disappeared the second day. The swelling and stiffness has gone from his muscles, now he can walk without suffering and says he feels like a new man. Rhu-Aid contains Three Great Medical Ingredients which go right to the very source of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Ohio Ceremonies Honor Incoming Chapter Officers

(Telegraph Special Service)
Ohio — Installation ceremonies were held in Friendship Chapter No. 378 O.E.S., at a special meeting on Saturday evening, Dec. 14. The chapter room was tastefully decorated for the occasion with baskets of pine boughs and poinsettias, and a Christmas tree in blue and silver.

Worthy patron, presided in the East.
Worthy matrons, worthy patrons, past matrons and past patrons were escorted to the East and introduced.
The installing officers and their escorts preceded by Mrs. Irene Heaton, associate conductress, carrying the open bible, then entered the chapter room and were introduced as follows:
Mrs. Vivian Carlson, installing officer; Mrs. Edna Jackson, installing chaplain and Mrs. Edith Saltzman, installing marshal. Escorts were Harry Peterson, Henry Albrecht and Dale Rickert. Mrs. Henrietta Hopper was installing organist and Mrs. Bertha Balcom, soloist.

The officers-elect then formed a semi-circle back of the altar and were introduced as follows: Mrs. Julia Noonan, worthy matron; Mrs. Irene Heaton, associate matron; Verner Heaton, associate patron; Mrs. Esther Jackson, secretary; Wallace Monier, treasurer; Mrs. Bertha Balcom, conductress; Mrs. Vera Rickert, associate conductress; Mrs. Evangeline Guilther, Adah; Mrs. Beulah Ioder, Ruth; Mrs. Kay Anderson, Esther; Mrs. Verna Monier, Martha; Mrs. Maria Smith, Electa; Mrs. Minnie McGonigle, warder; Henry Jackson, sentinel.

Vance Hopper, color bearer, advanced to the East carrying the flag, the pledge of allegiance was given and the National Anthem sung.
While Mrs. Noonan still knelt at the altar following the obligation, Mrs. Balcom sang for her "The Prayer Perfect." The remaining officers were then installed, and as each Star point assumed her station she was presented with a miniature Colonial bouquet. The worthy matron was also presented with a Colonial bouquet in pastel colors, the worthy patron with a red rose, and Mrs. Balcom sang for them "Star of the East."
Mrs. Noonan graciously expressed her thanks for her bouquet, also to her installing officers, her soloist, refreshment committee and to all who helped to make the evening a happy and memorable occasion.
Mrs. Carlson, as toast mistress, then called upon the worthy patron for remarks, each responding with a few well chosen words.
In behalf of the chapter, Mrs. Mabel Ruff presented Mrs. Albrecht with a Past Matron's jewel, and the officers of 1946 also presented her with a gift.
The ceremonies closed with "The End of a Perfect Day" sung by Mrs. Balcom, and an informal reception for the new officers was held.
